THE NEW MAYFLOWER.

President's Official Yacht Rivals Those of Royalty.

CHANGED INTO A FLOATING PALACE

Refitted and Refurnished Thoroughly. She Equals the Kaiser's Hohenzollern and Other Royal Vessels. Panels of Steel-like Lace and Costly Decorations Used in the Interior Furnishings.

Trim as a summer girl in her daintiest bathing suit, the Mayflower, the official yacht of the United States and ocean home of President Roosevelt, recently lay in the Brooklyn navy yard, says the New York Herald. In her new function, after undergoing alterations that cost $50,000, she is ready for sea as one of the most luxuriously appointed vessels afloat.

Of the new Mayflower all the officers at the navy yard are proud, as they feel she will be a fitting residence for the chief executive of the nation when social or naval regulations call upon him to fly his flag afloat. In designating such a palace for use by the president the United States departs somewhat from the old lines of Jeffersonian simplicity and takes her place with the other world powers in the matter of naval luxury. Neither the Hohenzollern nor any of the other royal yachts has staterooms and saloons more beautiful or costly than those of the president's yacht.

In the few weeks just passed the Mayflower has been refitted and refurnished completely from stem to stern. The president's quarters are situated aft, on the main deck, and include six staterooms for the exclusive use of himself, Mrs. Roosevelt and their children. The two largest of these staterooms have been very lavishly furnished. Special attention has been given to the decoration of the bulkheads and the paneling, which are covered with expensive silk in many colors.

On the spar deck forward are the charthouse and the staterooms of the surgeon and paymaster. These are fitted up in simple but expensive style. The smoking room occupies the after portion of this deck and is finished in teak, with a floor of fancy woods, inlaid in mosaic and waxed. Many cane chairs and sofas add to the comfort to be had in this room.

Below on the main deck the captain's cabin, stateroom and bathroom occupy the forward part of the port side, the similar section starboard being used as a wardroom and containing quarters for the executive and other officers of the ship. Behind the officers' quarters is the president's dining saloon. It extends the width of the ship and is furnished in white and gold, Louis XIV. style. The bulkheads are beautiful, with delicate tracery, and light is admitted through two spacious skylights mahogany trimmed. A handsome Italian marble mantel ornaments the forward bulkhead, above which is a large oval mirror framed in gold.

Running aft from the dining room is the companionway to the president's reception room. Some of the panels along this companionway are made of valenciennes lace, painted over with a silver paint to represent steel. The metallic pigment on the threads of lace so stiffens it that if the lace be touched sharply with the finger it gives out a sound like a silver bell. In the reception room the white and gold effect is still carried out. This room is furnished also in white and gold, the prevailing scheme in decoration. The library adjoining the reception room is finished in Flemish oak, and the bookshelves are fitted into the bulkheads.

Leading down to the berth deck aft is a magnificent mahogany stairway that gives entrance to the president's private suite. There are two large staterooms, four smaller ones and two bathrooms. The larger of the rooms is for the use of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, its companion for the use of Miss Alice Roosevelt, and the smaller ones are for the remaining children of the family. Handsome brass bedsteads and all the dainties of boudoir furniture are to be seen in this part of the ship.

On the port side, just outside the president's room, is his private bath. The tub, which is cut from a solid block of fine marble, is sufficiently large to enable the president to splash around. The fittings and the plumbing in the bathroom are of white metal, heavily plated with silver. When the Mayflower went out of commission some months ago, the paneling in the president's stateroom was of decorated linen. During the refitting period this fabric was removed and handsome flowered silk of many colors was put in its place.

Besides the arrangements made for the comfort of the president and his family in the living and sleeping apartments aboard, extensive plans were made to give him the benefit of the most improved culinary and sanitary contrivances. There are a large refrigerating plant and a spacious winery in the forward part of the vessel near the dining saloon. Nothing has been left undone to make the Mayflower a fit habitation for the ruler of a wealthy nation.

Before the Spanish-American war the Mayflower was the property of Mrs. Ogden Golet. It had been built for her husband by G. & J. Thompson, on the Clyde, at a cost of $800,000. When Mr. Golet died, his widow at one time contemplated selling the yacht to the king of the Belgians. At the outbreak of the war the Mayflower was bought by the United States government for service as a torpedo boat destroyer at a cost of $450,000.

The vessel is 321 feet over all, 275

SWEPT BY A CYCLONE

TERRIFIC STORM PASSES OVER A PORTION OF RACINE COUNTY, WIS.

ONE FATALITY REPORTED

Houses and Barns, Wrecked, Stock Killed, Trees Blown Down, Hundreds of Acres of Grain Ruined and Other Damage Done—Devastated District About Ten Miles Long and Half a Mile Wide.

Racine, Wis., July 3.—The country in this county from the town of Raymond east to Husher in the township of Caledonia, a distance of ten miles and about half a mile in width, was swept by a cyclone late in the afternoon. One man was killed, several persons injured, forty houses and barns were wrecked, thirty of forty head of stock killed, hundreds of trees blown down, hundreds of acres of grain ruined and other damage done, amounting to possibly $40,000.

The storm first struck the house of William Cook, just west of Raymond, a new structure, and blew it to pieces. J. J. Laing's house was then wrecked and Mr. Laing was badly hurt, but his family escaped. His barns were also wrecked. The house and all of the barns and other buildings of Elisha Lower were completely demolished, and it is reported that three persons were injured.

The barns of Frank Eastman of Kilbournville are gone. The barns and home of Albert Herman were carried away. William Hess lost his barns and had two horses killed. Christian Erb's barns were demolished, the latter places all being in Caledonia. The only fatality is at the home of G. Thyssen of Caledonia. His house was completely wiped away and also the barns. The family were all in the house at the time, but all escaped serious injury except Thyssen, who was killed. Thyssen was a man fifty years old. A wife and seven children survive.

Reports from the district state that there are many other houses and barns blown away and that it is hard to estimate the exact number. A son of Elisha Lower was driving a horse attached to a wagon loaded with farm implements. The storm caught and carried him into the fields 100 yards away. The horse was killed and the young man injured.

Telephone lines are down through the country and farmers are out with horses and wagons. The forty or sixty people who are left without shelter will be cared for. It is the worst since the cyclone of 1882, which blew away the northern portion of Racine.

Later reports from the cyclone district are in effect that the storm reached the line of the Milwaukee Electric Railway company's line, but did no damage to any of the cars, and the wires are intact. Whether the storm went through to the lake is not reported.

STORM IN MICHIGAN.

One Man Killed, Many Injured and Much Property Damaged.

Detroit, July 3.—A terrific storm swept through the southwestern portion of Michigan, killing one man, injuring many others and doing great damage to property. Near North Adams the residence of Mrs. Van Patten was demolished, the barn of M. W. Rood was blown from its foundation and another house was unroofed. Mrs. Van Patten and Mr. and Mrs. Gamble, her son-in-law and daughter, had taken refuge in the cellar and all were seriously injured.

At Leonidas a farmer was dashed to death against a telegraph pole. Near Mendon, John Bowman, an aged man, was severely injured by falling rafters in the collapsing home of Henry Powers.

Reports from Battle Creek, Marshall, Mendon, Wazee, Kalamazoo, Dowagiac and other towns state that wires are down and crops and property have sustained great damage.

Seven Inches of Rain.

Auburn, Neb., July 3.—The Nemaha river is the highest for nineteen years and is still rising. The whole Nemaha valley is flooded and Auburn is cut off from the east and north. Crops on the bottom lands are ruined. At Elmwood, north of here, seven inches of rain fell during the night, flooding the town and washing the Missouri Pacific tracks badly.

Celery Fields Flooded.

Kalamazoo, Mich., July 3.—Kalamazoo and vicinity was visited by the heaviest rainfall of the season. It is estimated that two inches of rain fell in one hour. Many of the celery fields are completely flooded and in some instances crops were washed away.

Many Fields Submerged.

Warsaw, Ind., July 3.—Heavy rains during the last four days have flooded this section and seriously damaged the wheat and oats crops. Many fields of almost ripened grain have been submerged. Tippecanoe river is higher than for twenty years.

Heavy Damage to Crops.

Madison, Wis., July 3.—Three violent showers fell here during the day and an electric storm occurred at night. Much damage was done to crops. The rainfall was 1.51 inches, the heaviest for a year.

A REMARKABLE PERIOD.

Only One Small Railroad Became Insolvent So Far This Year.

Chicago, July 3.—The Railway Age says: The year 1902, so far, has been the most remarkable period in fifty years of railway history in respect to insolvencies and receiverships. Since Jan. 1 only one operating railway, the New York and Pennsylvania, fifty-two miles long, has been placed in the hands of a receiver, and that one broke all previous records for brevity of stay, the appointment having been made in February and the road having been sold under foreclosure and started for reorganization in May. The receivership thus covered the short season of four months. The Railway Age, therefore, for the first time in its history, cannot report a railway for which a receiver has been appointed and continued in the current six months. During the twenty-six and a half years in which the record has been kept, it has shown the appointment of receivers for 639 roads, covering 114,400 miles of lines and representing stocks and bonds aggregating the vast sum of $6,291,397,000.

In a single year, 1893, no less than seventy-four roads went into bankruptcy, with 29,340 miles and $1,781,000,000 of stock and bonds. But since that year of greatest financial calamity, failures have rapidly decreased and reorganizations have gone on at equal speed, so that today the era of railway receiverships may be said to be ended.

MINNESOTA POPULISTS.

Convention at Minneapolis Names a Full State Ticket.

Minneapolis, July 3.—One of the Democratic nominees, Spurgeon Odell, candidate for secretary of state, is included in the ticket nominated by the state Populist convention. The Populist ticket follows: Governor, Thomas J. Meighen, Fillmore county; lieutenant governor, John B. Homrighaus, Otter Tail county; state auditor, O. S. Reishus, Yellow Medicine county; treasurer, E. W. Knatvold, Freeborn county; attorney general, J. F. Steidel, Traverse county; clerk of supreme court, H. R. Imstahl, Marshall county; railroad and warehouse commissioner, F. C. Gibbs, Le Sueur county; secretary of state, Spurgeon Odell, Marshall county. The platform rehearses the regular Populist doctrine of public utilities, direct legislation, the issuance by the government exclusively of all money and the establishment of all branches of the currency as full legal tender. The trusts are denounced, together with the Fowler banking bill and the administration's colonial policy. Demand is made for the establishment of postal savings banks and for the enactment of an eight-hour law. Independence is urged for the Filipinos.

DELAYED THE FUNERAL.

Mourners Tar and Feather Dead Woman's Husband and Sister.

Sterling, Ill., July 3.—The funeral of Mrs. John Seibert of Mount Morris, near here, was delayed until the mourners could adjourn to a cornfield and administer a coat of tar and feathers to the husband and sister of the dead woman. Then the funeral proceeded, but the two who were to have been chief mourners were absent. The house was filled with sorrowing neighbors when some of them, it is alleged, discovered Seibert in another room, hugging and kissing Mrs. Theodore Wilfe, his sister-in-law. The enraged crowd quickly dragged the couple to the cornfield. A plentiful supply of tar was poured over the victims and the feathers from a pillow were emptied on each. Then the two were driven from the village and ordered never to return. Mrs. Seibert died of consumption and during the two years of her sickness it is alleged that her husband was continually making love to his wife's sister.

CIVIL WAR CLAIMS.

Treasury Department Pays Over Three Millions to Six States.

Washington, July 3.—The treasury department has issued warrants in favor of the states of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Vermont and Ohio, aggregating $2,218,584. These warrants cover the claims of these states for expenses incident to the raising and equipping of troops during the Civil war, recently allowed by the comptroller of the treasury and for which congress made the necessary appropriation. The amounts which are being paid the several states are as follows: Illinois, $1,005,129; Indiana, $635,859; Iowa, $465,417; Michigan, $382,167; Vermont, $289,453; Ohio, $458,559.

CHIEF AMES' TRIAL BEGINS.

Head of Minneapolis Police Force Accused of Accepting a Bribe.

Minneapolis, July 3.—The climax of the municipal corruption sensation has undoubtedly been reached in the trial of Superintendent of Police Fred W. Ames of Minneapolis, accused of accepting a bribe of $25 to protect "big mitt" men. It is to be a fight to the death and both sides are determined. The Gardner, Norbeck and King trials are insignificant in comparison with the trial of the head of the police department, which is to involve the entire municipal administration, according to the opening remarks of Prosecutor Smith to the jury.

Woman Killed in a Runaway.

Van Wert, O., July 3.—Mrs. J. Latchford, wife of the vice president of the Royal Packing company of Chicago, was found dead three miles from town with her body entangled in the lines of a horse and carriage which she had hired for a drive. It is supposed that the horse ran away and that Mrs. Latchford tried to jump from the carriage.

STRIKING FIREMEN RETURN TO WORK AT TWO OF THE COLLIERIES.

PEACE JUSTICES ARE BUSY

Many Hearings Given to Men Charged

With Inciting and Participating in Riots at the Anthracite Mines—Seven Coal and Iron Policemen Under Arrest for Shooting an Italian—Serious Riot Averted.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 3.—The first break in the ranks of the striking firemen occurred during the afternoon, when three former employees of the Kingston Coal company applied for work and were given their old places. Three of the firemen who went out at the Pine Ridge mine of the Delaware and Hudson company at Miners Mills also decided to return to work.

Since the strike of steam men was inaugurated on June 2 a large number of engineers and pumpmen have gone back to work, but the firemen remained firm.

A number of justices of the peace in Luzerne county were kept busy during the day giving hearings to men charged with inciting and participating in riots at coal mines. Deputy Sheriff N. Eckert brought four men from Freeland, charged with engaging in a riot at that place. The prisoners were taken before Magistrate Pollock for a hearing. The justice's office was crowded to suffocation. A number of deputies testified that the prisoners gathered in the road leading to one of the mines and tried to intimidate some of their fellow employees.

At strike headquarters it was claimed that the arrests were an outrage and that the men should have been given a hearing at their homes. The magistrate, after hearing all the evidence, held the defendants in $500 bail. They could not furnish the bail and had to go to jail.

County Detective Phillips of Lackawanna county came to Duryea, and, going to William A. colliery, placed seven of the coal and iron policemen on duty there under arrest. They are charged with the shooting of the Italian whose dead body was found outside of the barricade. The officers were taken to Scranton and arraigned before Magistrate Howe. They were held in $1,000 bail to answer at court.

There came near being a serious riot at the William A. colliery. Charles A. Brown, a mining engineer, was on his way to the mine when a number of strikers began calling him names and throwing stones. Brown pulled his revolver and threatened to shoot. This angered the foreigners and Brown fired his revolver in the air. The guards at the colliery came out, and, seeing Brown was in danger, they fired into the air. The foreigners fell back. Later Brown was arrested by Chief of Police Congrove of Duryea. He was taken before Burgess Burlington, who held him in $5,000 bonds. The police say they found four revolvers on Brown. As the engineer's life was in danger he was put in jail.

STRIKERS ENCOURAGED.

Shopmen Walk Out on the Northwestern and Montana Central Roads.

Omaha, July 3.—The striking machinists and boilermakers of the Union Pacific shops were encouraged by the walkout of their craftsmen on the Northwestern and Montana Central railroads.

At Evanston, Wyo., but a few of the men quit work. W. Webster, president of district No. 2 of Evanston, has gone home to "line up" his men. Much interest centers in the situation at that point. General Manager Dickinson and Superintendent McKean are still in the West. President Burt is giving his personal attention to matters at this end of the line. It is stated at railroad headquarters that the company has no reason to feel apprehension over the result so far.

President Kennedy of the Boilermakers' union said the reports of rifle shots at Cheyenne was misleading. According to his advice, the reports heard were those of bursting torpedoes in the ship yards.

The company has taken the precaution of doubling the guards at the shops in this city, and the strikers have placed pickets to prevent new men from going to work.

ENTIRE FORCE OUT.

Boilermakers Strike at Missouri Valley and Council Bluffs, Ia.

Missouri Valley, Ia., July 3.—Twenty-four boilermakers and their assistants, the entire force of the Chicago and Northwestern shops at this point refused to report for work during the morning. Those employed at Council Bluffs also laid down their tools and quit work.

Dynamited a Street Car.

Fort Dodge, Ia., July 3.—Some person unknown to the authorities placed a stick of dynamite on the street car track here and a car running at a high rate of speed struck it. The car was completely wrecked and three passengers were injured. No arrests have been made.

For Intimidation and Conspiracy.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 3.—William Fitzinger was taken before Magistrate Van Horn at Kingston charged with intimidation and conspiracy. He was held in $7,000 bail for court. This is the first prosecution by the alliance which offers $5,000 in rewards for the arrest and conviction of boycotters.

Boilermakers Out at Kaukauna, Wis.

Kaukauna, Wis., July 3.—The boilermakers employed here at the Ashland division shops of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, have struck, closing the boiler making department and crippling the works at this point. The strikers demand higher wages.

Downing Street.

Downing street, London, perpetuates the name of a clever man from Massachusetts. Those were the days before the Fourth of July had any significance in American annals, and George Downing, the first scholar in the first public school in Massachusetts and the first graduate sent out by Harvard college, came to England and became a chaplain in Cromwell's army.

By a remarkable stroke of fortune he was sent to represent England at The Hague when Europe was trembling before Oliver, and during three distinct eras in England's history he held the office of British ambassador at the Dutch court. He was as popular or as clever under the Merry Monarch as under the protector and the commonwealth, and it came to pass, in the reign of Charles II., that the man from Massachusetts was granted a great tract of land at Westminster, where he built huge mansions and laid out Downing street.

To this day Downing's street is Downing street still, and, though George Downing is forgotten, there is no name in the British empire which is more familiar to us than his.—St. James Gazette.

A PRETTY HOME WEDDING.

Miss Anna Belle Wilson and Mr. William Hense United in Marriage Last Evening.

There was a very pretty home wedding at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wilson on Fourth street north last evening at 9 o'clock, when their daughter Miss Anna Belle was joined in marriage to Mr. William Hense, of this city. The wedding ceremonies took place in the presence of a large number of neighbors and friends, the Rev. D. D. McKay, of St. Paul, an old friend of the family, officiating. The nuptial knot was tied beneath a bower of roses and carnations in the west bay window of the parlor. The bride was unattended except by her little sister who acted in the capacity of a flower girl. The rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers for the occasion, the color scheme being pink and green, which predominated throughout the house.

The bride was dressed in a white dress trimmed with liberty silk and she carried in her hand a beautiful bouquet of pink roses. She also wore a beautiful necklace, the gift of her brother Harry Wilson. The groom was dressed in a conventional cut-away and he was unattended. After the ceremonies the wedding party sat down to supper which had been sumptuously prepared.

The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hense, Aitkin; Mrs. Griffin and daughter, St. Cloud; and Rev. and Mrs. D. D. McKay, of St. Paul.

The bride received many very costly and beautiful presents from her friends, which were tokens of the esteem she is held in by all.

The bride, Miss Wilson, was for two years a teacher in the public schools of the city and she was one of the most popular. She is the eldest daughter of Supt. and Mrs. Wilson. Mr. Hense is a well known machinist at the Northern Pacific shops. He had prepared a home and they went to housekeeping at once at 315 Fourth avenue, East Brainerd. They will be at home to their friends after July 21.

There was an auction sale of a horse on Monday that was left at the hotel some nine weeks ago by a fruit tree agent who slipped out from Brainerd at that time, leaving his employers shy several hundred dollars.

Hello! The long distance telephone has an office at the Deerwood hotel which is greatly appreciated by the people at Deerwood. There is also some talk of putting in a local line to connect with several lines in the vicinity.

Mr. Huddleston and wife, from London, England, with a party of friends arrived in Deerwood this week and have set up several tents on his old camping ground at Portage lake and will spend the next ten weeks catching fish and having a general good time.

ODD GYMKHANA RACES.

Novel Fete Held at Mrs. Trenor Park's Country Seat.

GOOSE RACE A FUNNY EVENT.

Society Women Played the Role of Fowl Drivers For Charity's Sake Near White Plains, N. Y.—Exciting Egg and Spoon Race One of the Amusing Features.

Stony Wold sanitarium is the richer by $1,000 and Westchester county, N. Y., several thousand laughs the merrier through the holding of a gymkhana the other afternoon on the grounds of Mrs. Trenor L. Park, near White Plains, N. Y. It is to be here recorded that Mrs. J. Borden Harriman won an egg cup by excelling the exploits of the late Mr. Columbus—that geese were raced upon webbed and unwilling feet to victory and that one of the most stirring potato races ever seen was witnessed on the green slopes on which Hillcrest stands, says the New York Herald.

All the gentry of the country were there, and the grand stand and the coaches were filled by women whose names are well known in society. The gymkhana was organized under the direction of Mrs. Park, and she displayed such generalship that there was not a lagging moment. The hour for beginning was a quarter past 3 o'clock. An hour before that time coaches, brakes, surreys and all manner of one, two and four horsepower vehicles arrived at the gates. The women wore exquisite summer gowns, and the men were mostly in their riding clothes. A track had been mowed clean in one of the great meadows, and around this quarter mile ellipse the competitors in the various contests took their course.

First of all was the Gretna Green race, a lesson in rapid eloping of the kind which was fashionable before the days of the telegraph. Young ladies and gentlemen mounted ponies, joined hands as they rode to a given point where the obliging parson was supposed to be. They signed a registrar, remounted and then went back again to seek the forgiveness of relenting parents. The first prize was won by Miss Haight and Mr. E. S. Reynal, the second by Miss Catlin and Mr. H. N. Potter and the third by Mrs. Potter and Mr. N. C. Reynal.

The quarter mile dash for ponies was won by Trump, ridden by Miss Haight. The second prize fell to Broncho, guided by Miss Catlin, and Mrs. L. T. Martin's Spinaway was third. The half mile dash for hacks, carrying 165 pounds, resulted as follows: First, Post Horn, ridden by Mr. Louis Baetger; second, Colonel, piloted by Mr. Louis Fitzgerald; third, Peacock, on whose back was Mr. Peabody.

Then in the stirring race of the spoons and eggs, which was in the nature of a scramble, the young women with the best spoons and the steadiest hands were winners. The fair contestants, with their sleeves rolled up, were mounted on horses. Each balanced an egg on a tablespoon with more or less accuracy. Many avoided fell to the ground, but none met the fate of Humpty Dumpty, for they were of porcelain. The first prize, a handsome silver cup, was awarded to Mrs. Harriman, and the second fell to Miss Catlin.

Indigestible tubers figured largely in the next contest, for the so called potatoes looked strangely like polo balls. The first prize was won by Master Theodore Rutter, who rode a Shetland pony three feet high, and therefore he did not have far to stoop in quest of the objects which were scattered over the ground. Mr. E. S. Reynal was second. His pony, as though inspired by a perverse nature, kicked over the pail as fast as the rider deposited the potatoes.

Best of all was the goose race. Fifteen young women and a little girl, the daughter of Mrs. Harriman, drove geese over the greensward. Ribbons were attached to the wings of each of the fowls, and then, after much jockeying for a start, all of the birds began the race. Each one squawked and flapped its wings as though the fate of Rome depended upon its efforts. Many of them rebelled against being placed in silken harness. Others lay down in the tracks of their expansive feet and refused to move. Half of the number, however, knew that there was a race in progress, and they ran with all speed, using their wings to aid them. There were several collisions, and cries of "Foul!" filled the air.

The birds driven by Miss Margaret Cooley and Mrs. William Caswell were neck and neck. Mrs. Eugene S. Reynal drove her goose half way down the course when the creature became suddenly as heavy as though it were of the variety esteemed more in tailor shops than in poultry yards and refused to go another step. Two of the birds stopped with the race half done to remove each other's plumage. Six got into a tangle of silk ribbons and webbed feet and were with difficulty extricated. The goal was reached first by Miss Cooley's Joan of Arc; Mrs. Caswell's Alice of Old Vincennes was second, and Iphigenia, driven by Miss Enos, was a close third.

The hurdle race was won by Mr. Van Schaick on Post Horn, with Mr. Tone on Saddle and Mr. Fitzgerald on Tipperary Jo second and third respectively. Mr. E. S. Reynal won the saddle race, with Mr. F. H. Allen second and Mr. Beverly W. Robinson third. Mr. E. S. Reynal, who carried off a large portion of the honors, was also the victor in the pony hurdle race. It was announced that Mrs. Samuel W. Jarvis had given $500 to the Stony Wold Institution.

VETERANS OF THE BLUEBERRY WAR

Reunion of Soldiers Sent to Brainerd at Time Four Indians Were Hung.

FEW OF THE VETERANS LIVING. Members of Three Companies Ordered Here That Are Living Will Be Present.

There are not many living in Brainerd today who remember the Indian uprising in this county in 1872, but those who were will read the following taken from the Pioneer-Press with interest:

"The members of the three St. Paul companies of militia, who participated in the Blueberry Indian war of 1872, will meet in the parlors of the Commercial club at 5 o'clock this afternoon to arrange for a reunion and banquet, to be held July 25, the thirtieth anniversary of the Brainerd uprising. A program will be decided upon and committees will be appointed to arrange for the reunion.

"The meeting is called by J. W. Shepard, who was one of the officers sent to Brainerd. The reunion will be the third held by the soldiers, the last one having taken place five years ago. Mr. Shepard said last night that no plans for the coming celebration have yet been made.

"We are going to get together this afternoon," said he, "and talk the matter over in an informal way. We shall then decide what we want to do. There are not many of the Blueberry war veterans now living, so the reunion, if held, will not be an elaborate affair. I should like to have all the members of the three companies that were ordered to Brainerd meet with us this afternoon. There are about thirty or forty still living in St. Paul and Minneapolis, and I think that these can all be present."

"The Brainerd Indian uprising, or 'Blueberry war,' occurred July 25, 1872. A school teacher living a few miles from Brainerd was murdered by the Indians and the citizens of that town hung four Indians in order to avenge the crime. The tribes in that locality then threatened the settlement at Brainerd, and for a few days it looked as if the entire population of the frontier village would be massacred.

"The Indians prepared for hostilities. The squaws and children were sent away and the Indian villages were deserted. The sheriff of the county, fearing that he would not be able to cope with the savages, called upon the government for aid, and in response three companies of militia were sent from St. Paul.

"When the Indians saw the soldiers, they modified their hostile views. Judge Edgerton was appointed commissioner to arrange a truce. No fighting was engaged in during the week the soldiers remained at Brainerd.

"Brainerd, at the time of the outbreak, was the great blueberry center of the Northwest, and when the trouble with the Indians arose the price of the berries increased more than 50 per cent within two days. The militia men who were sent to quell the uprising claimed that they received no ration but blueberries while at Brainerd, and from these two incidents the uprising was dubbed the 'Blueberry war.'"

P. K. JOHNSON THERE.

Attending the Celebration of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Founding of the City of Mankato, Minn.

P. K. Johnson, father of Mrs. Julia McFadden, C. D. Johnson and F. B. Johnson, is at Mankato attending the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the city of Mankato.

Mankato was founded in the early spring of 1852, by Henry Jackson and P. K. Johnson, of St. Paul. A townsite company was formed, consisting of Henry Jackson, P. K. Johnson, D. A. Robertson, Samuel Leach, J. C. Ramsey, J. M. Castner, J. S. Hinckley, D. F. Brawley. The townsite was surveyed and named Mankato, from the Mankato or Blue Earth river. The land was still in the hands of the Sioux Indians, but a treaty was made with them in the spring of 1853, at Traverse de Sioux, in consequence of which they were removed thirty miles west. Among those of the townsite company who are attending the celebration are J. S. Hinckley and P. K. Johnson. W. W. Paddock is still a resident of Mankato, being county commissioner. Mrs. Mills, now Mrs. G. Lulsdorf, was the first white woman in Mankato.

A board of county commissioners was elected, consisting of John S. Hinckley, James Hanna and J. W. Babcock, who met in Mankato Aug. 6, 1853, and organized the county of Blue Earth. The first school was taught by Miss Sarah J. Hanna, and the first postmaster was P. K. Johnson. The first saw mill was built by George W. Lay in 1856. The Mankato house was opened by Henry Shubert in 1854. The first church was Catholic, and was built under the supervision of Luther Somers, an energetic and faithful priest. In 1854 and 1855 the settlers received a large accession to their number.

The act of the legislature which incorporated the village of Mankato was approved March 2, 1856. W. F. Lewis, J. C. Wise and Frank Prael were the first trustees. James A. Wiswell was the first mayor of the city, taking office March 31, 1868.

JUNE A RECORD BREAKER. The Coldest June in Thirty-two Years--- There were only Five Clear days in the Month.

The records of the weather bureau show that June of the present year broke all temperature records for the past fifteen years, and, with the exception of June, 1875, was the coldest in the thirty-two years in which records have been kept. The mean temperature was 64 degrees. The coldest day in June was the 21st which had a mean temperature of 52 degrees. The lowest temperature reached was 45 degrees above zero, on that day. The highest temperature recorded was 84, on June 9.

June was also a comparatively dry month. The mean precipitation was 2.49 inches. The average precipitation for the month is 4.43. There were five clear, fourteen cloudy and eleven partly cloudy days.

ON THE DIAMOND.

The Brainerd-St. Cloud games tomorrow at Brainerd Athletic Park are looked forward to with considerable interest. Tomorrow is the first day that Dr. Watkins will pitch with Brainerd and a great game is looked for when he is pitted against the colored boy, Ball, of St. Cloud. Bemis, Brainerd's star pitcher, will make things look blue for the Granite City boys tomorrow and none know it better than they do themselves. The line-up of tomorrow's games will be: Englebreton, catcher; Williams first base; Kindler, second base; Spelacy, third base; Flynn, short; Howe, left field; Murphy, center field; and Boyle right field. Bemis and Watkins will pitch.

The morning game will be called at 10 o'clock and the afternoon game will be called at 4 o'clock. It was thought best to call the game at 2:30 o'clock but the Trades & Labor sports are to be pulled off commencing with 1 o'clock this will give them plenty of time to do so before the afternoon game.

CROW WING WILL HAVE FAIR AGAIN

Meeting of Business Men Called This Morning well Attended ---Officers Elected.

J. M. ELDER IS PRESIDENT

Efforts will be Made to have one of the Best Fairs Crow Wing Ever Had.

This morning there was a meeting of the business men in the council chambers, called for the purpose of discussing the feasibility of holding another county fair this year. The meeting was quite well attended, the business men of the city being well represented.

It was decided unanimously to have another fair this year and efforts will be made to make it one of the best that the county has ever had. The resources of the county, especially in the stock raising and agricultural lines, are enlarging every year and the fair is sure to be a winner, a larger degree of success being attained each year as the country improves.

After discussing the matter at length and deciding to hold the fair the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—J. M. Elder.

FOURTH IN BRAINERD.

While there will be no Celebration in the City there will be Ample Means of Enjoyment.

The Fourth in Brainerd this year will be a lively one. No special arrangement has been made in the city for a celebration outside of the one which will be held at Gilbert Lake near the dam which has been managed under the auspices of the Trades and Labor Assembly. Here there will be all kinds of sports in the afternoon between the hours of 1 and 4 o'clock and, with the boating and pleasant picnic grounds there should be a great opportunity for pleasure during the day.

There will be two good games of base ball in the city at the Brainerd Athletic Park, one in the morning at 10 o'clock and the other in the afternoon at 4 o'clock. It was thought first that the game in the afternoon would be called at 2:30 o'clock but the sports at Gilbert Lake will be pulled off at 1 o'clock and this will give those who are at the lake an opportunity to see the afternoon game and will also give those who wish to see the sports at the lake an opportunity to do so without missing the game.

All the stores in the city will be closed tomorrow all day and business in general will be suspended.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"TWO LITTLE WAIFS."

Last night a good audience greeted the company presenting Lincoln J. Carter's latest production, "Two Little Waifs," at the Brainerd opera house and it was certainly a genuine surprise to those who have been constant attendants at the theatre and have seen Carter's productions, for the playwright has so thoroughly deviated from the course usually pursued that his ear marks are not traceable in this piece. True to the advance notices the piece is one of heart interest and is brim full and running over with good things. There are five acts and the audience last night did not seem to tire in the least, showing as much interest in the last act as in the first. The scenery that the company carried was excellent, the sunset and the moonlight scenes in the first act being especially beautiful.

To Stanley and Lolita Lamb, who played the parts of the waifs, the public must certainly bow in recognition of talent and exceptional ability. The little tots act like grown people and their specialty acts were especially fine.

ALL WRONG.

The Mistake is made by Many Brainerd Citizens.

Don't mistake the cause of back-ache. To be cured you must know the cause.

It is wrong to imagine relief is cure.

Backache is kidney ache. You must cure the kidneys. A Brainerd resident tells you how this can be done.

Mr. J. Hagadorn, of 123 Ninth St. north says: "For thirty years I had more or less trouble with my kidneys. Some attacks laid me up while during others my back ached so severely that I could not sleep at night nor work during the day. On many occasions I could not stand and talk to a man for two or three minutes without suffering with twinges across the small of my back which radiated towards the shoulders. As time passed by the complaint became more pronounced and difficulty with the kidney secretions set in. As might be expected I tried everything when the attacks occurred to check them, but if I had met with any marked degree of success I never would have reported to Doan's Kidney Pills.

When suffering severely I went to a drug store and got a box. I expected the results would be similar to those obtained by using other preparations. In twenty-four hours I changed my mind. I noticed they were acting totally different to anything hitherto tried, and encouraged I kept on with the treatment until I finished two boxes. Now I may have recurrences but at the present moment, and it is some time since I stopped the treatment, I have not a symptom of my old complaint. To any one interested I will be only too pleased to give minutest details and substantiate the above statement in a personal interview."

IRISH LAND QUESTION

LONG AND HEATED DEBATE
PRECIPITATED IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

ERA OF TURMOIL PREDICTED

Liberal Member Moves Discussion of

Pending Evictions From Defreyne

Estate in Roscommon County—Mr.

Wyndham Maintains Rents Have

Been Reduced Thirty-seven Per Cent in Twenty Years.

London, July 3.—A long and heated debate on the Irish land question was precipitated in the house of commons. Thomas W. Russell, Liberal, moved the adjournment of the house to discuss the pending evictions from the estate of Lord Defreyne in Roscommon county, in connection with which that nobleman recently had writs issued against several members of the Irish parliamentary party, whom he charged with conspiracy.

Mr. Russell declared that unless the government intervened to prevent these evictions an era of turmoil would be inaugurated in the west of Ireland, where there was trouble enough already. He said that he had visited the Defreyne estate three times and that he was thoroughly convinced of the injustice which the tenants suffer. The people there were the poorest of the poor. He believed one word from Mr. Wyndham, the chief secretary for Ireland, would settle the whole trouble, and he thought the reduction of the rents collected on the estate by 33 per cent would not be excessive for those bog lands which were now renting for more money than was obtained for decent lands in Ulster county.

Mr. Wyndham replied with some asperity that he was surprised to find Mr. Russell siding against law and order. The rents from the Defreyne estate, he said, had been reduced 37 per cent in the last twenty years, and he knew that some of the organizers were making money out of the agitation. His advice to the tenants was to pay up. This statement was greeted with groans from the Irish members.

Hundreds had paid up, said Mr. Wyndham, and this remark was received with Conservative cheers. Many more would like to pay, the chief secretary added, but they were intimidated. Mr. Wyndham said it was impossible to carry out the land purchase scheme in Ireland when it was interrupted by agitators who desired to make government there impossible.

John Redmond, the Nationalist leader in the house, characterized Mr. Wyndham's statement as paltry and flippant. He declared that whatever money was earned by the Defreyne estate was earned by the male population working in England during the harvest season, and he contended that the government was directly responsible for the happenings on the Defreyne property.

After other members of the house had spoken on the subject Mr. Russell's motion for an adjournment was defeated by 231 votes to 132.

RESTRAINING ORDER DENIED.

Chicago Board of Trade Refused Injunction Against Indiana Brokers.

Indianapolis, July 3.—Judge John H. Baker of the United States district court has refused to grant an injunction against Indiana brokers asked for by the Chicago board of trade against the use of the board's quotations. The defendants claimed the board was a huge gambling affair and had no rights which they were bound to respect. Judge Baker, in refusing to grant the injunction, said that if he granted it the injunction would injure the defendants' business and he could not destroy the business of the defendants pending a final settlement of the case. The court declined to give an opinion as to whether the Chicago board of trade was a gambling scheme.

Victoria, B. C., July 3.—Advices from the Orient received here state that the steamers Kumagawa and Kisogawa of the Osaka Shoshun Kaisha were in collision off the coast of Korea on the night of June 11, and the former sank, carrying down 7 of the crew, 17 European passengers, 3 Japanese passengers and 15 Korean. Nineteen passengers and the balance of the crew were saved by the Kisogawa and taken to Chemulpo. The Kisogawa was not seriously injured. The Kumagawa cannot be raised.

Attempt to Blow Up a Magazine.

Brest, July 3.—Two men attempted to enter the magazine lying just outside the fort and wounded the sentinel with a revolver. The latter fired upon them with his rifle, raising an alarm, and his assailants escaped. A similar attempt was made Saturday evening and it is believed that anarchists intended to blow up the magazine, which contained powder sufficient for 5,000,000 cartridges.

Many of the Rioters Killed.

London, July 3.—A dispatch to the Reuter Telegram company from St. Petersburg says there have been labor riots for the past few days at Restov-on-Don, in the province of Ekaterin-slav, Southern Russia. There have been numerous collisions between the troops and rioters. The troops fired and many of the rioters were killed or wounded.

President Mitchell Urges Michigan

Miners to Agree to Terms Offered.

Saginaw, Mich., July 3.—The efforts of President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America to effect a settlement of the differences in the Michigan district, in which the miners have been out on strike since April 1, have not as yet been entirely successful. President Mitchell addressed a joint conference of operators and mine workers and made an earnest appeal to both parties to come to terms. The scale was then turned over to committees appointed to represent each side and they wrestled with the subject for several hours, when it became apparent that no agreement could be reached. The men contend for the same scale of wages as they received last year, for an eight-hour day for all men working above ground, and for the abolition of the system whereby the men push the cars from the entries. The operators concede the wage scale, offered to increase the pay of the firemen 20 cents a day and to adopt a uniform wage scale for all help above ground in lieu of the demand for eight hours, but refused to abolish the pushing of cars from the entries.

The matter was then referred from the joint conference back to the local unions to vote upon and if they accept the proposition, another joint conference is to be called. Otherwise, the strike continues.

President Mitchell has left for Wilkesbarre. He advised the men to accept the proposition of the operators and end the strike.

ANOTHER GOOD DAY.

King Edward's Condition Continues to Give Satisfaction.

London, July 3.—King Edward has passed another good day. The quiet and routine of the sick room was varied by the excitement of listening to the music and cheers of the Indian troops as they marched past the palace and greeted Queen Alexandra on the balcony. King Edward demanded a full account of the review and the formal report made by the Prince of Wales was supplemented by the personal narrative of the queen. His majesty dictated a letter to the Duke of Connaught, commanding him to compliment the Indian troops upon their excellent appearance, and to thank them for their expressions of loyalty and sympathy, which he had heard with pleasure in his sick room. King Edward was somewhat disappointed that he was not able to review the troops. He had hoped that this would be possible from an invalid couch in the window of the palace, but the doctors were unwilling that he should risk this exposure and excitement, and his majesty had to content himself with hearing the troops pass.

HIS BACK BROKEN.

"Human Bomb" Receives Injuries

Which Will Prove Fatal.

Louisville, July 3.—In the presence of 5,000 spectators, witnessing the open air performance of the "Last Days of Pompeii," on the common at Churchill Downs, James Dull, known as the "human bomb," received injuries which will probably result in his death. It is Dull's part of the performance to be hurled high in the air, clinging to a bomb which explodes, releasing a parachute by which the performer returns to earth. When Dull reached the greatest height the bomb failed to explode and started to fall. When the missile was within 100 feet of the ground it exploded, but Dull was dashed to the ground and the performance brought to a close. When the victim was picked up it was found that his back was broken.

Seven Children Badly Burned, Two

Probably Fatally.

Chicago, July 3.—Trying to imitate an Egyptian fire swallower, Harry Loughren, twelve years old, poured boiling gasoline over himself and six other children, and as a result the boy and one other child will probably die. Of the others only one escaped injury—a girl, who dropped without being hurt from the porch balluster, thirty feet from the ground, after tearing off her skirt, frantic to avoid another child who was running toward her with clothing ablaze. The boy's mother was burned so badly in stripping the burning clothing from him that she also may die. After a hard struggle the flames were extinguished by neighbors who ran to the assistance of the children.

Both Mrs. O'Malley and Hearin are said to come of prominent New York families. Professor O'Malley, the woman's husband, is in St. Agnes hospital, this city, suffering from paralysis caused, it is believed, by ptomaine poisoning. The couple have been married only a few months. The husband was poisoned in South Bend and as he did not improve his brother had him removed to this city, his wife accompanying him here. She was a guest at her brother-in-law's house and a few days ago articles of jewelry were missed. Suspicion fell upon her and her friend Hearin. Pawn tickets were found upon Mrs. O'Malley.
